The Tartan, our school newspaper, which has always been a source of pride for McLane, is quite obviously trying to continue its tradition of presenting good journalism and comic relief to its student patrons. Aside from publishing an excellent edition every two weeks, the staff is also participating in numerous other activities. They held and participated in the all city press conference, they put out the school directory, and they hold their annual Tartan Party. McLane's appreciation goes out to them for their efforts.
